

THIS IS NOT A GAME:

Forced to Flee

the Northern Triangle of Central America

SAFE PASSAGE HUMANITY
DIGNITY

Due to violence and persecution, you are suddenly forced to flee your home. As you journey north through Mexico, what experiences await? Further injustice? Kindness? In the Northern Triangle of Central America, Doctors Without Borders/Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) sees a pattern of violent displacement, mistreatment and forced repatriation akin to conditions faced by people caught up in the deadliest of armed conflicts elsewhere around the world. This is Not a Game is based on real-life scenarios documented in mobile clinics and shelters in Mexico where MSF provides humanitarian assistance to people in flight.
